

Looking for last minute gift ideas? Check out Toys“R”Us Canada’s back-pocket mini-guide for procrastinators

Good news for procrastinators. There are toys that will help you to hide your identity as a procrastinator, impress your friends and family and won’t break the bank.

Nobody should spend the holiday season embarrassed about giving a lousy gift or worried about the entire gifting process itself.

1. Jenga

For friends and family of all ages, the classic game offers family fun that never goes out of style. From building the wooden tower to the inevitable fall, the game offers hours and hours of endless fun.

2. LEGO Harry Potter Hogwarts Express

Part traditional LEGO, part collectible, this gift is equipped with a table, figurines and even a candy cart. Kids of all ages will be able to re-enact the iconic scene from the first scenes of this classic movie franchise.

3. UNO

Tres! Dos! UNO! Get ready for hours of blocking, skipping and reversing turns with the classic UNO card game. Easy to learn and extremely fun to play, families can expect fast fun that will keep the excitement going. This is a great last-minute gift heading into any family function. Toys"R"Us Canada also offers an anniversary edition of UNO featuring Geoffrey the Giraffe.

4. Trouble Disney Frozen Olaf's Ice Adventure Game

Hoo-hoo! Big summer blowout! Didn't get enough of Olaf? A Frozen twist on the classic Trouble game, Olaf's Ice Adventure Game comes with the pop-o-matic. Just like the movie, the characters interact with heat and change. With four Olaf ice cube molds, the Trouble Disney Frozen Olaf's Ice Adventure game is the perfect choice for any fan.

5. Hasbro's holiday assortment

Want a quick stocking stuffer? Hasbro's holiday assortment is a christmas-themed remix of a number of classic games. It's sure to add some holiday-themed cheer to your next family gathering.

Don't let procrastination keep you out of the season of giving and putting a smile on someone's face.

The holidays is a season for family and friends to spend time in play and exchanging each other's full 'presence' – the greatest gift of all.

All toys are available at Toys"R"Us Canada.
